

COVID-19 Pandemic Risk Reduction to Indigenous Americans in New York

COVID-19 Pandemic Risk Reduction to Indigenous Americans in New York

The module promotes the advocacy of prevention measures through art activities based on the heritage of the tribes. It targets youth residing in reservations and surrounding areas and sensitizes their participation in art activities to promote best practices for the prevention of the pandemic. The module includes designing a survey to assess current knowledge, attitudes, and practices and the design of counter art activities to promote prevention measures.

www.ict4compliance.com