

Applied Design Thinking in Construction Management

Applied Design Thinking in Construction Management

Construction Management training is often based on engineering software. This module introduces the advantages of Design Thinking into rigid Construction Management systems. Introduced advantages are:

- Engaging stakeholders in co-creation
- Combining analysis and intuition
- Materializing ideas
- Promoting empathy
- Piloting viable solutions