Project Processes

- This training is based on GIZ- Capacity Works modules.
- Project-processes here are the internal and inter-organizational processes form the project-organization's “nervous system”. They determine not only the organization's performance capacity but also whether or not it will achieve its goals.
- The training provides five tools for the analysis and development of project-processes:
 - Process landscape
 - Process Hierarchy
 - Architecture of Intervention
 - Process Optimization
 - Interface Management
